

Do you know where they stand?

Jeff Frankel of the Kennedy School of Government at Harvard talks about:

"US Economic Policy in Recent Years: Have Republican and Democratic Presidents Traded Places?"

Day: November 13th

Time: 5:00pm

Where: Pendleton Atrium

Please join us for an interesting lecture and dinner catered by Lemon Thai! Must RSVP for dinner.

RSVP: ESA RSVP on FirstClass

Sponsored by the ESA, Economics Department, SOFC Lecture Fund, CLCE

Professor Frankel has authored several articles about this topic including "Republican and Democratic Presidents Have Switched Economic Policies," published in the Milken Institute Review and "Trading Places", published in 2002 in the Financial Times. His research also includes international finance and monetary policy.

Questions? Email kkamm
Expires 11/14/03