

Department of Africana Studies

Professor: Cudjoe A2, Steady (Chair)

Associate Professor: Obeng

Assistant Professor: Patterson

Visiting Lecturer: Davis, Mmari

Africana Studies, an intellectual expression of Africana peoples, is designed to acquaint students with a critical perspective on the Africana World that is found primarily in Africa, the United States, the Caribbean and South America, but also among peoples of African descent in Asia and Europe. Grounded in the history, culture and philosophy of Africana peoples, Africana Studies promotes a knowledge of the contribution of Africana people to the world, develops a critical perspective to examine the experience, and cultivates a respect for the multiracial and multicultural character of our common world humanity. Although Africana studies emphasize an interdisciplinary and multicultural approach to scholarship and learning, it also seeks to provide grounding in a specific discipline and an understanding of the breadth of the Africana experience. As a result, the Africana Studies Department expects its students to develop an intellectually critical and analytic apparatus to examine knowledge, seeks to contribute to a student's self-awareness, and attempts to broaden a student's perspectives in ways that allow her to understand her world in its diversity and complexity.

AFR 101-102 Elementary Swahili

Mari

The primary focus of Elementary Swahili is to develop listening, speaking, reading, and writing skills. Aspects of Swahili/African culture will be introduced and highlighted as necessary components towards achieving communicative competence. Each semester earns 1.0 units of credit; however, both semesters must be completed satisfactorily to receive credit for either course.

Prerequisite: None

Distribution: None

Semester: Fall, Spring    Unit: 1.0

AFR 105 Introduction to the Black Experience

Patterson

This course serves as the introductory offering in Africana Studies. It explores in an interdisciplinary fashion salient aspects of the Black experience, both ancient and modern, at home and abroad. This course provides an overview of many related themes, including slavery, Africanisms, gender, colonialism, civil rights, and Pan-African exchange.

Prerequisite: None

Distribution: Historical Studies or Social and Behavioral Analysis

Semester: Fall                    Unit: 1.0

AFR 150 Black Autobiographies

Cudjoe

NOT OFFERED IN 2008-09. The purpose of this course is to trace the formal and thematic development of Black autobiography from the early nineteenth century to the present. We will explore the complex relationship between the community and the individual, the public and the private, the political and the personal aspects of self that shape the Afro-American conception of identity. Authors will include Linda Brent, Frederick Douglass, Ida B. Wells, W.E.B. DuBois, Richard Wright, Maya Angelou, Malcolm X and others.

Prerequisite: None

Distribution: Language and Literature

Semester: N/O                      Unit: 1.0

AFR 201 The African American Literary Tradition

Cudjoe

NOT OFFERED IN 2008-09. A survey of the Afro-American experience as depicted in literature from the eighteenth century through the present. Study of various forms of literary expression including the short story, autobiography, literary criticism, poetry, drama, and essays as they have been used as vehicles of expression for Black writers during and since the slave experience.

Prerequisite: None

Distribution: Language and Literature

Semester: Fall, Summer Unit. 1.0

AFR 234 Introduction to West Indian Literature

Cudjoe

NOT OFFERED IN 2008-09. A survey of contemporary prose and poetry from the English-speaking West Indies. Special attention is paid to the development of this literary tradition in a historical-cultural context and in light of the perspectives recent literary theories offer. Authors to include: V. S. Naipaul, Derek Walcott, Wilson Harris, Jean Rhys, and others.

Prerequisite: None

Distribution: Language and Literature

Semester: N/O Unit: 1.0

AFR 235 Societies and Cultures of Africa

Steady

The objective of this course is to provide students with an introduction to the richness, diversity, and complexity of African societies and cultures while appreciating their unifying features. Topics to be discussed include forms of social organization, the importance to kinship and marriage systems, the centrality of religion, the position of women, urbanization and problems of development, democratization, and political transformation, political instability, and armed conflicts. In order to understand a people's view of themselves and of their relationship to the outside world, an in-depth case study will be made of one ethnic group - the Yoruba of southwestern Nigeria.

Prerequisite: None

Distribution: Social and Behavioral Analysis

Semester: Spring Unit: 1.0

AFR 236/POL2 203 African Politics

NOT OFFERED IN 2008-09. An investigation of politics across Sub-Saharan Africa since the defeat of Portuguese colonialism in the mid-1970s. The economic stagnation of the 1980s, the impact of structural adjustment programs, the end of the Cold War, the genocide in Rwanda and the resulting wars will be discussed along with the liberation of Southern Africa and the recent wave of democratization. Emphasis on developing the method of empathetic understanding to become knowledgeable about the opportunities and constraints faced by African citizens and governments. Students may register for either AFR 236 or POL2 203 and credit will be granted accordingly.

Prerequisite: One unit in political science, economics, history, or Africana Studies. Open to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.

Distribution: Social and Behavioral Analysis

Semester: N/O                      Unit: 1.0

AFR 239 Islam in Black America: From Slavery to the Present

Patterson

This course commences with a detailed exploration of Islamic worship practices transferred and retained during slavery. The course continues by chronicling the historical and socio-political implications of nineteenth and twentieth century Islamic practice as it relates to African-American communities.

Prerequisite: None

Distribution: Historical Studies

Semester: Fall                      Unit: 1.0

AFR 242 New World Afro-Atlantic Religions

Obeng

NOT OFFERED IN 2008-09. With readings, documentary films, discussions, and lectures, this course will examine the complex spiritual beliefs and expressions of peoples of African descent in Brazil, Cuba, Haiti, Jamaica, and North America. The course surveys African diasporic religions such as Candomble, Santeria, Voodoo, Shango, and African American religions. Attention will be paid to how diasporic Africans practice religion for self-definition, community building, sociocultural critique, and for reshaping the religious and cultural landscapes of the Americas.

Prerequisite: None

Distribution: Religion, Ethics, and Moral Philosophy

Semester: N/O                      Unit: 1.0

AFR 251 Religion in Africa

Obeng

An examination of African experience and expression of religion, the course surveys African religions among the Akan of Ghana, Yoruba of Nigeria, Nuer of the Sudan, the Zulu of South Africa, and the Bemazava-Sakalava of Madagascar. The course will focus on how gender, age, status, and cultural competence influence Africans' use of architecture, ritual, myth, dance, and music to communicate, elaborate on the cosmos, and organize their lives. Special attention will be paid to the resiliency of African deities and indigenous cultural media during the encounter between African religions, Christianity, and Islam.

Prerequisite: None

Distribution: Religion, Ethics, and Moral Philosophy

Semester: Spring                      Unit: 1.0

AFR 266 Black Drama

Cudjoe

NOT OFFERED IN 2008-09. This course will examine twentieth-century Black drama, with a special emphasis on the period of its efflorescence during the Black Arts Movement of the 1960s and 1970s. We will also explore the Black theatre as a medium of aesthetic expression and communal ritual as well as an instrument of political consciousness and social change. Playwrights will include Douglass Turner Ward, Alice Childress, Ossie Davis, Lorraine Hansberry, James Baldwin, Ed Bullins, Adrienne Kennedy, LeRoi Jones (Amiri Baraka), Ntozake Shange, and others.

AFR 280 Wintersession in Ghana

Obeng

NOT OFFERED IN 2008-09. This course is an introduction to Ghanaian history and society, with two foci: spirituality (Christianity Santonofa, and Islam etc.) and women. Based at the University of Ghana in Legon, students will attend lectures by university professors, will visit sites related to those lectures around Accra, and will travel to the coast (Cape Coast and Elmina) and inland (to Kumasi and parts of the Ashanti region) to visit historic sites as well as to study village and rural life. Not offered every year. Subject to Dean's Office approval.

Prerequisite: By permission of the department. Application required.

Distribution: Epistemology and Cognition

Semester: N/O                      Unit: 0.5

AFR 297 Medical Anthropology: A Comparative Study of Healing Systems

Steady

This course examines alternative healing systems that attempt to treat the whole person as a physical, social, and spiritual being and to promote community participation and healing. It offers new perspectives on the biomedical model as it examines the sociocultural context of the causation, diagnosis, prevention, and cure of disease. Examples of healing systems will be from Third World countries, particularly in Africa, the Caribbean, and Latin America, and from industrialized societies, particularly from African American and indigenous communities in the United States. Examination will be made of healing systems that include divination, herbal medicine, folk medicine, and faith healing.

Prerequisite: None

Distribution: Social and Behavioral Analysis

Semester: Fall Unit: 1.0

AFR 299 Women in the Caribbean

NOT OFFERED IN 2008-09. This course is a sociological exploration of the lives of women in Caribbean societies. While the emphasis is on contemporary English-Speaking Caribbean (Barbados, Jamaica, Trinidad and Tobago, St. Lucia, Nevis, etc.), attention will be given to the historical background of the current situation and to the French-Speaking (Martinique, Guadeloupe, Haiti, etc.) and Spanish-Speaking (Cuba, the Dominican Republic and Puerto Rico) Caribbean. Women's work in the formal and informal sectors, activism, roles in development and familial relationships are some of the topics to be explored.

Prerequisite: None

Distribution: Social and Behavioral Analysis

Semester: N/O Unit: 1.0

AFR 300 Heritage and Culture in Jamaica: A Wintersession Experience

Steady

Jamaica is a country that provides a unique opportunity for the study of multiculturalism in action. Its national motto is "Out of many, one people." The study abroad wintersession course in Jamaica will explore the history, culture, and political economy of the country and promote an understanding of the Caribbean as a whole through seminars, participatory field research, and internships. The program will give students an opportunity for total immersion in the Jamaican environment and for participation in several community-based projects that will add experiential value to their classroom-based education. Not offered every year. Subject to Dean's Office's approval.

Prerequisite: By permission of the department. Application required.

Distribution: Social and Behavioral Analysis

Semester: Wintersession Unit: 0.5

AFR 301 Seminar. South Africa

Steady

NOT OFFERED IN 2008-09. An examination of the degree of success or failure in social transformation from a racist, centralized, and oppressive apartheid system to a nonracial, democratic and participatory system which seeks to promote social and economic justice for all its citizens. Topics include the structural challenges to social transformation, socioeconomic development and resource distribution, the persistence of de facto apartheid, the Truth and Reconciliation Commission, increasing poverty among the African population, the HIV/AIDS epidemic, the impact of globalization, and South Africa's place in Africa and the world at large.

Prerequisite: One 200 level course of relevance to Africana Studies or by permission of the instructor.

Distribution: Social and Behavioral Analysis

Semester: N/O                      Unit: 1.0

AFR 306 Urban Development and the Underclass: Comparative Case Studies

Steady

Throughout the African Diaspora, economic change has resulted in the migration of large numbers of people to urban centers. This course explores the causes and consequences of urban growth and development, with special focus on the most disadvantaged cities. The course will draw on examples from the United States, the Caribbean, South America, and Africa.

Prerequisite: One 200 level course of relevance to Africana Studies or permission of the instructor.

Distribution: Social and Behavioral Analysis

Semester: Spring                      Unit: 1.0

AFR 307 Modern African Political Thought

NOT OFFERED IN 2008-09. This seminar course will examine the political ideas of major figures who have shaped African history in the last hundred years. It will explore the intellectual means they employed in grappling with European imperialism and the post-colonial period. It will look more specifically at the premises and implications of Negritude, Pan-Africanism, African Socialism, and new trends towards democratization. It will do so through an in-depth investigation of the works of such political thinkers as Frantz Fanon, W.E.B. DuBois, Marcus Garvey, Nkrumah, Kenyatta, Nyerere, Senghor, Cabral, Nasser, Gaddafi, and Mandela.

Prerequisite: One 200 level course of relevance to Africana Studies, or permission of the instructor.

Distribution: Social and Behavioral Analysis

Semester: N/O                      Unit: 1.0

AFR 310 Seminar. Black Literature

Topic A: Three Writers of the Harlem Renaissance

Cudjoe

The Harlem Renaissance is a period associated with the rebirth of African American literature and culture. Langston Hughes, Claude McKay, and Zora Neale Hurston are three important novelists and poets of this period. This course examines selected works from their prose and poetry. Selected works will be examined against the background of the Harlem Renaissance.

Prerequisite: One 200 level course of relevance to Africana Studies or permission of instructor.

AFR 341 Seminar. Topics in Africana Social Science

Topic A: Neglected Africans of the Diaspora

Obeng

The seminar explores the nature and composition of the African Diaspora and its changing meanings. Focusing on Africans in India and Pakistan, Oman, Britain, Belize, Martinique, Ecuador, and Costa Rica, we will examine the sociocultural connections among diasporic Africans such as the forced migrations of enslaved Africans and voluntary emigration of free-skilled Africans out of continental Africa. The seminar also explores the geopolitical, religious, and cultural factors that foster distinctive diasporic African identities and how these people constitute and contribute to global citizenry. Attention will be paid to the permeable boundaries of global politics, religion, economics, culture, and citizenry.

Prerequisite: One 200 level course of relevance to Africana Studies or permission of instructor.

Distribution: Social and Behavioral Analysis

Semester: Fall                      Unit: 1.0

Topic B: Seminar. Race Relations

TBA

NOT OFFERED IN 2008-09. Examination of the dimensions of prejudice, racism and Xenophobia as they exist in multi-racial societies. Exploration of their causes, developments and expressions through an analysis of the major works on race theory, comparative empirical studies, experiential exercises, group projects and discussions. Students will be encouraged to gain personal insight into the nature of prejudice-acquisition through socio-cultural processes and institutional developments as well as to understand the theoretical complexity of its nature. Issues studied will include a comparative study of racism and affirmative action policies in the United States, Brazil and South Africa and plans of action of United Nations Declarations and Conferences Against Racism.

Prerequisite: One 200 level course of relevance to Africana Studies or permission of instructor.

Distribution: Social and Behavioral Analysis

Semester: N/O Unit: 1.0

AFR 344 Advanced Africana Seminar

Cudjoe

NOT OFFERED IN 2008-09. This course examines through interdisciplinary approaches key texts that shape our understanding of Africana Studies. The major theories, ideas, issues and significant writings that shape Africana Studies will be examined. Consideration will also be given to approaches to Africana Studies, concepts of Afrocentricism and how the text that is selected allows us to understand the discipline in a more critical manner. This seminar will be placed within the poly-cultural, multi-racial and religiously plural landscapes of Africana people.

Prerequisite: One 200 level course of relevance to Africana Studies or permission of instructor.

Directions for Election

A major in Africana studies requires nine units. An Africana studies major will choose one of four possible concentrations: Africa, the Caribbean, the United States, or a general Africana studies concentration. All of the four concentrations encompass the interdisciplinary approach of the department, while allowing students to focus on a particular area and gain expertise in one discipline. The first three courses of study focus on geographic areas; the fourth, designed in consultation with the student's advisor, allows the student to create a concentration on a particular salient aspect (e.g., Africana women or Africana arts) or issue (e.g., comparative race relations) in the Africana world.

Majors and minors must take 105 before undertaking specialized courses of study. This course provides an overview of the discipline of Africana studies, including its philosophical and historical foundations, and introduces students to its major fields of inquiry. Of the nine units required for an Africana studies major, at least two must be at the 300-level and 344 is strongly recommended. Ordinarily, not more than two units may be taken outside the department.

Africa: This program of study is designed to provide students with an interdisciplinary and integrated understanding of the peoples of the African continent, from its ancient foundation through its current geopolitical situation. However, to ensure students' breadth of knowledge of the Africana world, two courses that focus on a geographic area other than Africa are required. Six courses that focus on Africa are the foundation of this concentration: one course must be in history; one must be in a social science (economics, political science, sociology, anthropology, or psychology); one must be chosen from the humanities (literature, language, art, music, philosophy, and religion); and two should be chosen from a specific discipline. The following courses are appropriate for the Africa concentration:

History: AFR 105, [200], [319], 340, HIST 265

Social Sciences: AFR 204, [205], [213], [223], 235, 236, [245], 280, 297, 301, 306, 307, 318, 341.

Humanities: AFR 101-102, 202, 207, 211, 222, [231], [232], 251, ARTH 209, [238], 241, 316

FREN 218, 330, MUS 209, 224

The Caribbean: This program of study also provides students with an interdisciplinary knowledge of a particular geographic area: the Caribbean – its history, peoples, culture, and significance in the world system. As with the other concentrations, students focusing on the Caribbean are expected also to acquire some breadth of knowledge about the Africana world; thus, two courses focused on other areas are required. Of the five courses on the Caribbean, one must be a humanities course; one must be a social science; one must be a history course; and two must be chosen from one discipline. (See the African track for the specific disciplines considered “humanities” and “social sciences.”) The following courses are appropriate for the Caribbean concentration:

History: AFR 216, [319], 340

Social Sciences: AFR 105, [245], [275], 299, 300, 306, Humanities: AFR 207, [210], [232], 234, 310, [335], FREN 218, 330, SPAN 269

The United States: As with the other concentrations, students who choose the United States should approach their study of African America through many disciplines. The concentration requires five courses focusing on the United States: one in history, one in the humanities, one in social science, and two in the discipline in which the student chooses to concentrate. (See the Africa concentration for the specific disciplines considered “humanities” and “social sciences.”) To ensure students’ breadth of knowledge of the Africana world, however, this track also requires two courses focused on one or more geographic areas other than the United States. The following courses are appropriate for the United States concentration:

History: AFR 105, 206, 208, 214, 239, [319], 340

Social Sciences: AFR [203], [214], [215], 217, [219], [220], [221], 225, [230], [305], [306], [315], POLI 337S

Humanities: AFR 150, 201, 212, 222, [233], [262], ARTH 322, ENG 320, MUS 209, 224, 300

General Africana studies: This concentration allows students to design a more eclectic focus in Africana studies or a focus that cuts across boundaries of geography and discipline, (e.g. Africana women’s studies) or a discipline-focused course of study that is cross-cultural (e.g., Africana arts). Students must have their programs of study approved by their advisors. This program should demonstrate the same geographic and disciplinary breadth as the previous three (i.e., at least two geographic regions must be represented in the courses chosen; and at least one history course, one humanities, and one social science are required). Of the seven courses to be elected, at least three must be in one discipline.

For all concentrations, students are encouraged to gain first-hand experiential insights in the Africana world. Students in the Africa and Caribbean concentrations are encouraged to consider the Wintersession courses in Ghana and Jamaica. Those in the Africa or the Caribbean concentrations, are also strongly encouraged to consider study abroad programs in these geographic areas. Those focusing on the United States should consider spending a semester or year at an historically Black college or in a relevant U.S. internship. Credit toward the major may be given for such experiences when appropriate.

A minor in Africana studies will consist of five units, including one 300-level course. AFR 105 is strongly recommended. Minors are strongly encouraged to take courses in at least two geographic areas (e.g., the United States and the Caribbean) and in two or more disciplines. Minors are also encouraged to attend departmentally sponsored extracurricular lectures, especially those (required of majors) that focus on methodology.

Honors

The only route to honors in the major is writing a thesis and passing an oral examination. To be admitted to the thesis program, a student must have a grade point average of at least 3.5 in all work in the major field above the 100 level; the department may petition on her behalf if her GPA in the major is between 3.3 and 3.5. See Academic Distinctions.
