

Political and Economic Analysis and Consulting

I have produced commissioned studies on South Asian politics and economics.

I have designed and conducted surveys, case studies, and comparative research of industries, firms, and workplaces in South and Southeast Asia, including in Bangladesh, India, Indonesia, Pakistan, Sri Lanka, and Thailand.

Sponsoring and collaborating organizations include the Asia Monitor Research Center, the Smithsonian Institution's Council of Overseas American Research Centers, Church World Service, the Harry Frank Guggenheim Foundation, the IRIS Center at the University of Maryland College Park, the International Center for Economic Growth (San Francisco), the National Centre for Economic Analysis and Research (India), the U.S. Agency for International Development, and the Workers' Rights Consortium.
