

Davis Summer Internship 2015 Fact Sheet

What: A ten-week, full-time, paid summer internship in several departments across the Davis Museum. Group projects, workshops, lunches with staff, and weekly field trips to regional arts institutions supplement daily work. A highlight of the internship is a jam-packed weekend trip to NYC (typically in June) to visit a variety of cultural institutions.

Stipend for the entire summer: $3000. Housing on campus is provided.

Who: Open to current Wellesley students and graduating seniors from any major. This year we are able to offer eight positions throughout the museum (full descriptions online):

- 4 curatorial research interns
- 1 public and interpretive programming intern
- 2 technology/social media interns
- 1 collections care intern

When: June 9 – August 14, 2015. Full-time, Monday – Friday, 9:00am – 5:00pm.

Where: The Davis Museum at Wellesley College

Why:

Exposure: Gain exposure to daily life in an exciting academic museum, as well as to the larger art world through field trips and presentations.

Connections: Make important connections – both inside the Davis, working directly with staff members, and outside of the museum in the local and national art world (museums, auction houses, galleries, artist studios, Wellesley Friends of Art, etc.)

Impact: Summer interns have a vital role at the Davis and work on meaningful projects that have a direct impact on the museum – no running to get coffee, guaranteed. (Past projects have included inventory, updating the database, creating maquettes, and researching potential acquisitions.)

How: Download the application from the Davis's website at <http://www.wellesley.edu/davismuseum/students/internships>. Complete and submit the application as a pdf (with resume and transcript) by January 9, 2015. Possible candidates will be contacted for interviews in February, with decisions being made in March.

Still have questions? Email Hannah Levine, Summer Internship Coordinator (hlevine) or Liz Gardner, Public and Interpretive Programs Specialist (egardner).