Lighting of the Candles

Musical Prelude

Paula Prial Folkman

“For the Beauty of the Earth” All (standing optional)

For the beauty of the earth,
for the glory of the skies,
for the love which from our birth
over and around us lies;
Lord of all, to thee we raise
this our hymn of grateful praise.

For the beauty of each hour
of the day and of the night,
hill and vale, and tree and flower,
sun and moon, and stars of light;
Lord of all, to thee we raise
this our hymn of grateful praise.

For the joy of human love,
brother, sister, parent, child,
friends on earth and friends above,
for all gentle thoughts and mild;
Lord of all, to thee we raise
this our hymn of grateful praise.

Welcome

“Reflections on Fauré’s Requiem”

Written and read by Phyllis Beck Katz

He wrote offering comfort in the illumination of his Luceat eis, a way to light the dark,
promise in his breathless crescendos diminuendos,
in the dialogue of instruments and voices, salutation of trumpets, urgent calling of the oboe, the magic of his Piè Jesu, Agnus Dei, offering a feeling of hope reborn in music, transcending for a brief time all sorrow.
He wrote it for all who have suffered, all who seek to find the words for the grief and pain we feel, to bring new light to us, to show us the music we did not know was burning inside us.

Silent reflection/prayer

Responsive reading All (“We remember them”)

“A Litany of Remembrance” Dorothee Von Huene Greenberg
(Rabbis Sylvan Kamens and Jack Riemer)

At the rising of the sun and at its going down,
we remember them.

At the blowing of the wind and in the chill of winter,
we remember them.

At the opening of the buds and in the rebirth of spring,
we remember them.

At the blueness of the skies and in the warmth of summer,
we remember them.

At the rustling of the leaves and in the beauty of autumn,
we remember them.

At the beginning of the year and when it ends,
we remember them.

When we are weary and in need of strength,
we remember them.

When we are lost and sick at heart,
we remember them.

When we have joy we yearn to share,
we remember them.

When we have decisions that are difficult to make,
we remember them.

When we have achievements that are based on theirs,
we remember them.

As long as we live, they too will live,
for they are now a part of us, as
we remember them.

If I Should Go
(Joyce Grenfell)

Toni

If I should die before the rest of you,
Break not a flower, nor inscribe a stone,
Nor, when I'm gone, speak in a Sunday voice,
But be the usual selves that I have known.
Weep if you must:
Parting is hell,
But life goes on
So . . . sing as well!

"Morning Has Broken" All (standing optional)

Morning has broken, like the first morning.
Blackbird has spoken, like the first bird.
Praise for the singing, praise for the morning,
Praise for the springing fresh from the word.

Sweet the rain's new fall, sunlit from heaven,
Like the first dewfall, on the first grass.
Praise for the sweetness of the wet garden,
Sprung in completeness where his feet pass.

Mine is the sunlight, mine is the morning,
Born of the one light, Eden saw play.
Praise with elation, praise every morning,
God's recreation of the new day.
