Van Driver Safety Course for Wellesley College Employees and Students

When: Thursday, October 8th from 9am until 12pm

Where: Collins Cinema

Class Description: Nationwide Insurance, the College’s auto insurer, will be on campus on to conduct a classroom based driver safety training course for employees and students who drive College vans.

The class will include:

- Safety training on common hazards encountered while driving a van (van dynamics & understanding their center of gravity).
- Making the proper decision when the hazards are encountered.
- Driver Awareness Training (distracted driving, unsafe acts and driver complacency).
- Avoiding the “Fatal Four” (speeding, tailgating, driving left of center and failing to yield right-of way).
- Addressing factors that affect how long it takes to stop a vehicle.

If you cannot stay for the entire time due to class commitments, please join us for as long as you can!

Sponsored by: Wellesley College’s Office of Risk Management and Compliance