Academic Field Trips

Faculty and Staff Guide to Liability, Insurance and Risk Management Issues

What Is An Academic Field Trip?

An Academic Field Trip is defined as a course-related activity that serves educational purposes and occurs outside of the classroom at a location other than on the campus at which the course is regularly taught. These trips are generally led by faculty as part of the course curriculum and required for class credit. Examples of academic field trips include, but are not limited to, travel to museums, geological areas, farms, and businesses.

Experiences That Are Not Academic Field Trips

Faculty may recommend students attend an off-campus meeting, show or conference that would be an appropriate enhancement for curriculum but that students attend voluntarily. Students attend at their own expense and Wellesley College is not responsible for travel or supervision.

Students attending off-campus activities or trips via their involvement with a College athletic team, student club or organization or other College department not for academic credit are participating in a “voluntary field trip” and not an “academic field trip.” Please see the “Wellesley College Risk Management Guide for Voluntary (Non-Academic) Field Trips” document for additional guidance.

Why Is There A Distinction?

Academic field trips are considered part of the course curriculum and conducted within the academic mission of Wellesley College. This means that Wellesley College assumes the liability for academic field trips. Non-academic, voluntary field trips have a varying amount of liability exposure to the College depending on the amount of control the College has over a given field trip.

Are Academic Field Trips Covered by the College’s Insurance?

Wellesley College purchases an insurance policy for liability coverage. Claims against the College are handled by the College’s Risk and Compliance Manager (X2302) through its insurance broker. Academic Field Trips are covered by the Wellesley College insurance program.

What Can I Do To Minimize Field Trip Risks And Liability?

It is impossible to eliminate all risks entirely. However, advanced planning can help minimize the exposures to Field Trip Leaders, students, and Wellesley College. The following information is designed to serve as a guide to assist Wellesley College faculty and staff in making a reasonable effort to ensure a safe educational experience for students participating in field trips under their guidance. (Also see Appendix for a “Checklist for Planning an Academic Field Trip.”)

What Do I Need To Consider, As The Field Trip Leader(s), In Planning A Field Trip?

1. Destination Site

The Field Trip Leader(s) should be familiar with the site and share this knowledge with participants. Lodging premises and locations should be reasonably safe or written documentation should be provided highlighting associated risks. The Field Trip Leader(s) should determine whether immunizations are required, what skills are necessary, what students should do to acquire those skills and how competency will be evaluated prior to the trip. The number of field trip leader(s) for the trip and their competency level should be based upon the number of students and range of their skill levels. Orientation for field trip participants should include procedures for a “buddy system” and information on known risks as well as local cultural, custom and legal requirements.

2. Transportation

Please Note: Trips that are outside the continental U.S. should consult with the Office of International Studies and the Office of Risk Management.

The majority of Wellesley College academic field trips are by College-owned vehicle, however, trips by chartered buses and commercial airlines also occur. Determine your transportation needs in advance to allow time to make the necessary arrangements.

- Travel Using College-owned Vehicles

Wellesley College Motor Pool (x3280) can assist in determining the type of vehicle(s) needed for a field trip as well as the vehicle borrowing rules and requirements. Students are not allowed to drive college-owned vehicles for field trips. All prospective drivers of college-owned vehicles must undergo a motor vehicle record (MVR) check to be authorized to drive a college-owned vehicle. To request an MVR check authorization form, please contact the Risk Manager (x2302). The completed form should be submitted to Risk Management via campus mail or in person well in advance of the travel to allow time for the MVR review and approval decision.

- Travel Using Faculty or Staff Personal, Rental or Borrowed Vehicles

Faculty and staff are strongly encouraged to use college-owned vehicles for all field trips rather than their own personal vehicle. If using a personal vehicle, faculty and staff should understand that their own personal auto insurance (liability and property damage) is primary. Therefore, transporting College students increases the personal liability of the faculty or staff driver. Anyone using a personal vehicle should have minimum liability limits of $500,000 CSL (Combined Single Limit). For non-owned (including rentals, personal, or borrowed) vehicles, the College’s liability insurance will apply only as excess liability coverage. The College’s travel reimbursement program includes a provision for insurance expenses in the mileage rate calculation for personal vehicle use. In an accident, the non-owned vehicle owner must look to his or her own automobile insurance coverage as the primary insurance. Any deductible on the automobile insurance policy will be the responsibility of the vehicle owner and not Wellesley College.

3. Trip Expectations

The Field Trip Leader(s) should provide the participants with an orientation prior to departure. The type of field trip will dictate the level of detail needed in the orientation, but both verbal and written communication is essential.

Orientation materials should include the following:

- trip destination and purpose - a travel itinerary - route, rest and meal stops
- lodging information - transportation information - appropriate clothing or gear
- the established rules and protocols specific to the field trip.
- any known unique hazards.
- a summary of activities and physical requirements students will encounter
- any known or unusual circumstances that would require advance preparation or equipment

4. Emergency Planning

The type of field trip also dictates the level of emergency planning needed. If the trip location is remote, it is strongly recommended that at least two persons on the trip have first aid skills, a first aid kit and a cell phone or appropriate means of communication in the event emergency aid is needed. Confirmation that cell phones will operate from the field trip site should be made in advance so that alternative arrangements can be made if needed. Also determine a protocol for circumstances that may necessitate the Field Trip Leader(s) leaving the group to accompany an injured or ill student.

The Field Trip Leader(s) should make sure that each field trip participant completes an Emergency Medical Information form (See Appendix). A copy of this document should be kept with the Field Trip Leader(s). This document should be destroyed after the trip is over.

Students should be reminded to carry ID and medical insurance cards. The Field Trip Leader(s) should carry emergency phone numbers to reach key contacts at Wellesley College; however, all participants should know how to contact the institution from the site, find and use the first aid kit, access a cell phone or other phone and what to do if separated from the group.

5. Trip Contingencies

Even with the best planning effort, things can still go wrong. Try to anticipate complications that could arise, and then develop contingency plans in advance.

Examples include:

- a student needs to leave early because of a personal emergency;
- a student violates established rules;
- weather or transportation delays or cancellations.
- Understand any contract limitations or restrictions. Will the “unused portion” of pre-paid trip expenses be refundable?

6. Special Requirements For Participation

If students going on the field trip have disabilities or special requirements that may need to be accommodated, then the Office of Disability Services (x2434) can assist with information and accommodation requests for students. Be sure to let all students know this is an option during trip planning.

7. Compliance With College Policies

Make sure all participants understand that College policies for faculty, staff and students apply to field trips regardless of the location. This includes the College’s Honor Code. Instructional activities and settings should be consistent with Wellesley College policies including, but not limited to, policies on alcohol and drug use, policies on harassment and sexual misconduct and the policy on hazing.

Trip leaders are considered responsible employees under Title IX and need to be educated on those duties. Trip leaders are mandatory reporters of all incidents of sexual discrimination (including sexual violence) and should be trained to handle complaints of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence and stalking. This includes being attentive to the needs and rights of both victims and alleged perpetrators. For more information, please contact the College’s Title IX Coordinator, x2214.

Trip leaders are also designated as Campus Security Authorities (CSAs) under the Clery Act, and need to receive the same training as CSAs on the home campus. For more information, please contact the Lieutenant of the Wellesley College Police Department, x3883.

8. Certificates of Insurance

Sometimes the field trip destination, organization, or establishment will require a Certificate of Insurance from Wellesley College prior to use of their facility or event participation. If asked to provide this document, the Office of Risk Management (X2302) can provide a Certificate of Insurance for other parties. Please complete the form found here: <http://www.wellesley.edu/risk/facstaff/certins> in order to submit a request for a certificate of insurance.

9. Records and Documentation

Field Trip Leaders should consider the nature of the field trip and review documentation to ensure that language is clear and accurate when providing information to participants or preparing informed consent forms or release statements. These are written records that should be obtained in advance of the field trip and easily accessible. We recommend that the Field Trip Leader keep copies, as well as maintain a back-up record in the departmental office. See the Appendix for sample forms.

- Trip Authorization. Ensure documentation exists at the departmental level indicating the trip is a College authorized program and retain a list of authorized attendees. The department should also have a copy of the itinerary and contact information.
- Informed Consent and Emergency Release Form (See Appendix). It is recommended that Field Trip Leaders use an informed consent form, which also includes medical information and emergency release authorization, for all academic field trips. This form is designed to give the student basic information about the trip, and to warn the student of the hazards involved. It also sets a standard for behavior, letting the student know that she is responsible for herself and that failure to follow guidelines may result in dismissal from the trip. It is not a waiver, since the student does not give up any rights in signing the agreement. Students under the age of 18 are generally treated like any other student for purposes of field trips, and do not need parental signatures for informed consent forms.
- Liability Waivers and Releases (See Appendix). Waivers and releases are only needed if activities during the academic field trip present dangers or risks to participants that are extraordinary. Please contact the Office of Risk Management, x2302 to request a customized release waiver to meet the specific needs of your field trip.

What Do I Do If Something Goes Wrong During The Field Trip?

In the event of an emergency, Field Trip Leaders should attend to the injured and then determine what condition(s) or act(s) caused the injury or illness. The Field Trip Leader(s) should initiate any steps that are necessary to prevent similar incidents in the future.

Things to look for are:

- Specific sequence of events that led to the emergency situation.
- Conditions that may have contributed to the emergency situation.
- Statements from eyewitnesses, if available.

As soon as possible, contact your department, the Dean of Student's Office, and Campus Police to report the situation and receive assistance.

For College sponsored travel greater than 100 miles from campus, the College's Group Travel Accident Insurance and Travel Assistance Services are available to faculty, staff and students. Field Trip Leaders should become familiar with the coverage and bring brochures on the field trip. See the Appendix for more information and call the Risk Manager, X2302, with any specific questions.

Once it is possible to document the incident, the following procedures apply for reporting claims:

Medical Claims

- Faculty and Staff Work-Related Injuries and Illnesses (Workers' Compensation)

Faculty and staff that are part of sanctioned field trip experiences are considered to be working within the scope of their employment. If an injury occurs to an employee during the trip, employees are covered by Wellesley College's workers' compensation insurance policy as long as the accident or injury arises out of or during the course of their work activity.

Employees are responsible for notifying their supervisor of an injury or illness. The supervisor is then responsible for completing an Accident and Reporting Treatment (A.R.T.) form (see Appendix) and submitting it to the Office of Human Resources and the Office of Environmental Health and Safety within 24 hours, unless the accident resulted in a work-related fatality, hospitalization or amputation in which case it should be reported immediately.

Incidents that are not reported may cause employees to be ineligible for future benefits related to this injury or illness. Please note: an employee cannot receive reimbursement for medical expenses from both Workers' Compensation and a group medical plan.

- Students' Accidents or Injuries while Participating in a College Activity

The Field Trip Leader(s) should use the Field Trip Incident Report form (see Appendix) to report any accident or injury to a student that occurs during a field trip. This information is necessary in order to provide the Office of Environmental Health and Safety with documentation that will assist the College in taking appropriate steps or corrective measures to eliminate hazards that may be connected with College activities or to help determine negligence on the part of the institution if required.

Students are responsible for their own medical insurance coverage for field trips just as they are while attending classes on campus. The student's medical insurance is considered primary unless it is established that the accident or injury was caused by a negligent act on the part of Wellesley College.

Property Claims

All losses or damage to College property should be reported to the Office of Risk Management, x2302. Please be advised - the use of personal property by employees or students while participating in a field trip is at the employee or student's own risk. Wellesley College does not pay for loss, theft or damage to personal property.

Vehicle Claims

- College Vehicles

Report the accident immediately to Campus Police, x2121. Also report the accident to Motor Pool, x3280, as they can help to arrange for transportation in the event you need transportation back to campus. "Hit and run" and vandalism incidents are criminal incidents and should be reported within 24 hours to Campus Police or local police, if off-campus.

- Non-Owned College Vehicle, Personal, or Borrowed Vehicle while you are Conducting College Business

Report the accident to the Office of Risk Management, x2302.

Insurance Requirements for Rental Vehicles

On occasion, it may be necessary to use commercial rental vehicles for field trip transportation. Vehicle rental agreements should be signed on behalf of the College by your own name (i.e. Wellesley College by Jane Doe).

Here is some guidance on car rental insurance:

- Insurance You Should Take:
The insurance coverage called variously "Collision", "Loss Damage", "Loss Damage Waiver", or "Damage Waiver". This type of insurance covers damage to or theft of the rental vehicle.
- Insurance You Should NOT Take:
 - Insurance offered as "Personal Accident" or "Personal Injury" insurance covers the medical bills of the driver of the rental car and any passengers. This is redundant for persons covered by a health plan.
 - Coverage variously titled "Additional Liability" or "Liability" or "Excess Liability" pays for damage to other people or their property. The College has a policy which covers this exposure.
- Optional Insurance You May Buy But the College Will Not Provide Reimbursement:
 - Another type of insurance is variously called "Personal Effects" or "Personal Belongings" insurance. This add-on provides coverage for the personal belongings of the driver or passengers in the rental car. There is no substitute for this coverage within the College; a person's belongings are their own responsibility. Your homeowner's or renter's insurance policy covers your property anywhere in the world. This coverage is subject to your personally selected deductible.

Please remember to inspect any rented vehicle before driving it and note any dents, scratches or other damage to the vehicle on the rental form. It is acceptable to take photographs of the rental vehicle before leaving the rental agency location.
