Wellesley students are invited to compete for a $300 cash prize by submitting a paper about any object or event associated with the Davis Museum. Topics may include:

- Objects from the permanent collections or exhibited during temporary exhibitions
- Any aspect of Museum programming
- The Davis Museum itself

Papers will be judged by a panel of faculty and staff members representing the Davis Museum, the Art Department, and the Writing Program. The name of the prizewinner will be announced at Commencement.

ELIGIBILITY:

- This competition is open to all Wellesley College students.
- Papers written during the Spring 19, Fall 19, and Spring 20 semesters, including those written for independent studies, are eligible.
- Each student may submit only one paper.
- Honors theses are not eligible. A paper being submitted for another prize (e.g. sponsored by a department) is also ineligible.

HOW TO ENTER:

Entries must include the paper and a cover letter that contains your name, class year, and campus address; the name of the professor and course for which you wrote the paper; and a brief description of the assignment and the date the paper was submitted. Send submissions as e-mail attachments to davis-art-writing-prize@wellesley.edu by noon on April 1.

Questions? Email Heather Hughes, the Kemper Assistant Curator of Academic Affairs and Exhibitions at the Davis Museum at davis-art-writing-prize@wellesley.edu. For additional details visit: https://www.wellesley.edu/davismuseum/students/davis-writing-prize

DEADLINE: NOON ON APRIL 1, 2020